Transitus

A continuing journey thorough love

OFFERS:

- A networking and support system

for those committed to working in death, dying and bereavement with spiritual awareness and intention

- A resource list

of these people, available to members and the general public alike

- An annual gathering for its members to support one another and network together

- A festival day for its members, professionals, volunteers and the general public to disseminate information and to raise awareness about everything we need to consider when we, or those we care about and for, are dying, or grieving

MORE ABOUT TRANSITUS

Transitus, under the umbrella of The Martinsey Isle Trust – registered charity 1135600 - is an holistic Network and Resource List to support a change of approach to physical death, dying and continuity of consciousness - before, during and after life.

The name ‘Transitus’ comes from the Latin verb transire - meaning here ‘to make a passage or crossing, from the ending of one phase of life into the birthing of another’.

The Network comprises a growing group of people working in a way that honours all aspects of life - mind, body, spirit and emotions – that are involved with the sacred process of dying. Our aims are: to release fears and taboos; support those dying and bereaved; raise awareness of ‘green’ and family based approaches to death; and to encourage the acceptance of the concept of continuity of consciousness. The Network also supports its members so that none of us feels alone. Members include those working with: palliative care nursing, midwifing the soul; music thanatology; alternative funerals and celebrations; natural burials; grief counselling; life after death; related workshops; and more.

The Transitus Resource List, is compiled and updated twice yearly, is available by email and post to those involved and then by request to all seeking information and contacts. The idea of Transitus is firstly to discover about each other’s services, so that we begin to see the bigger picture of this movement of which we are a part. We will then disseminate each other’s information and speed up the spread of the Network. Please help us to do this by sending the Transitus Resource List to everyone you know who may be interested, making note of any updates and being mindful of where you send it, for email address security. Our hope is to see this document in public places everywhere.

At present there is an annual Transitus Spring gathering of members, held in Devon. Additionally, various events for the public are offered by members in their locality, on an ongoing basis, such as: a Transitus Festival, workshops, remembrance evenings, talks and events that shed light on death; and related services. Please tell others of your Transitus membership.

OUR LONGER TERM AIM

It is our intention to create an ever-expanding web site which will allow people from across the globe to access information about the whole field of continuity of consciousness, which sees dying and being born as a similar process.

WITH THANKS

With deep thanks to Sir George Trevelyan for inspiring the co-founders of Transitus: Carmella B’Hahn (Solace), Judith Pidgeon (The Martinsey Isle Trust) and Janice Dolley (The Wrekin Trust), at the Wrekin Trust’s ‘Death: The Great Adventure’ weekend in 2004.

We are also greatly indebted to The Natural Death Centre for their pioneering work.

N.B. The information is provided by contributors but Transitus cannot be held responsible for any misrepresentations. Each member is independent.

Transitus* retains the right to delete any name from the Resource List with good reason.

As part of my acupuncture and counselling practice, I accompany people who are facing their dying to this physical life, and more generally offer courses on the meaning of dying inspired by the Sufi understanding that death of the body is an awakening into the greater life, and that our task is to help to dispel the fear of dying. Accepting our dying does give us life. The more we are able to recognize and experience our existence in many dimensions, the more we free ourselves from identifying with our limited (and nevertheless valuable) nature of personality and physical body.

Whilst working as a spiritual healer I've always believed in the concept of 'healing into death' yet often not had the chance to do that as clients felt they were 'too ill' to have treatments. I've also helped many bereaved as they know I can empathise, having experienced bereavement at a young age. More recently I've become a soul midwife by learning from Felicity Warner and her concept of 'gentle dying' and I am now actively putting that knowledge into practice.

I work with clients with stress / emotional difficulties including fear, grief and other issues surrounding death. I use Reiki, Seichim, Indian Head Massage, EFT, Emo Trance and Kinesiology, intuitively blending these to suit the needs of my patient and often incorporating crystals or flower essences. I am always comfortable, whatever problems my clients bring me - they often say "I couldn't speak anyone else about this". Sometimes spirits in their loved ones join us to help them in their healing process - truly magical. I often feel as if people have placed their hearts in my hands. I continue to paint and exhibit wherever I was assigned and was sponsored by the British Council for a solo show in Slovakia in 1999. Following a tough spell in Iraq I produced a collection of portraits of journalists which was exhibited in London - and founded an organisation that promotes the use of the visual arts in peacebuilding.

As a Soul Midwife & Companion I encourage & assist people to resolve issues & overcome fears to facilitate their good & peaceful transition. As a de-clutterer I work alongside people on both sides of death - those who choose to simplify their lives & possessions prior to death, & those who have been bereaved & need a sensitive companion who can help them move on physically and emotionally when the time is right. My poetry arises out of my experience.

FELTMAKERS & ARTISTS Anne Belgrave & Yuli Somme have designed a new and softer alternative to the coffin. Anne lives on the Welsh Border, & Yuli on Dartmoor - they have worked together for several years on this idea, believing there is a need for funerals that are more relevant to current lifestyles. THE LEAFSHROUD, The leaf is an eloquent metaphor for the changing seasons of a life: the designs make use of this appropriate woodland image, but the felted wool leafshroud can be used instead of a coffin for both woodland and traditional burials. Soft on the environment too - made from sustainable materials which will return to nature. Each is individually made, & constructed of five layers of strong felt with an integral wooded frame and handles.

Job title: Soul Midwife, Teacher/Practitioner

My interest in death and dying has a deep connection to the many years of palliative care in many settings, aided by a wide range of healing techniques and philosophies. The initiatory experience and a gifting of Soul Midwifery has been the most joyful and difficult Pathways. My aim is to awaken the art of assisting the dying in the hearts of everyday people from all backgrounds and walks of life that we may reinstate "death" to its holy state of Divine Immortal Sovereignty.
